Changes made to stage 1:
- Added related searches as an addition to the visualization creative component. We provided a lot of extra detail on how our creative components will enhance our project. This makes our project more challenging and gives more purpose as a creative component.
- Added a paragraph that describes how we plan to collect data and how the data supports the functionality of our app.
- Included explanation of how our app will support using every part of CRUD operations, and all of its functionalities.
- Added a new data table "shots" that draws a shot chart for each individual NBA player in a given game. This makes our project more complex and avoids the possibility of it being too simple.
